

Particle and Theory-Twins of Science

Meet Particle and Theory!
They're jelly twins!

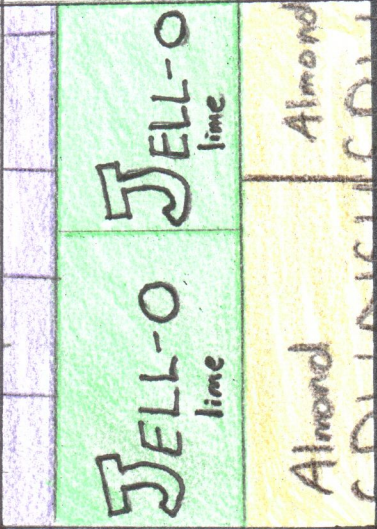

Hi! I'm Parti!
That's my annoying brother, Theory.

Yeah, yeah sis, I'm Theo, but Parti here is the annoying one.

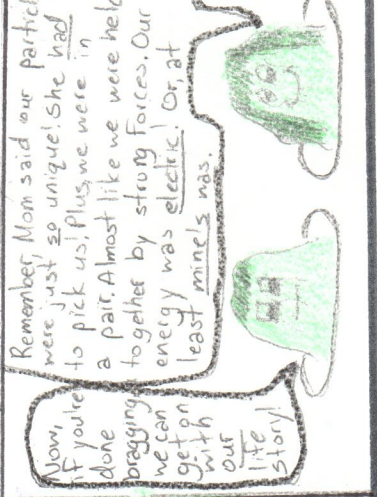

Now, were they always like this?
NO! Let's go back in time to when they were just merely babies.

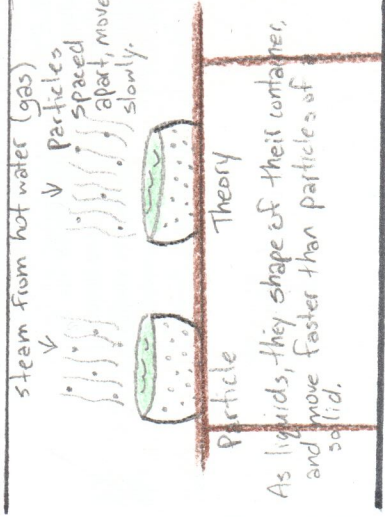

Parti and Theo were made up of jelly powder (tiny particles). They were identical and always moved together! No one could tell them apart!

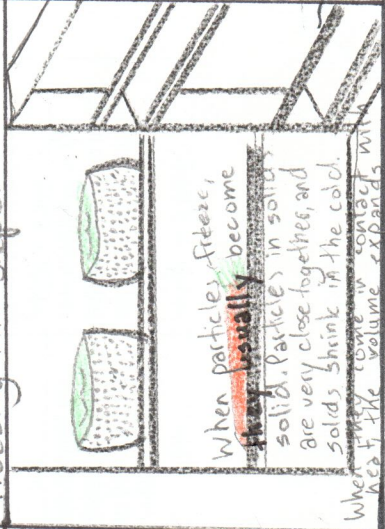

Particle and Theory were just infants when they were adopted!

Their mom neutered and looked after the twins very carefully.

Meanwhile, on their time journey, Parti and Theo are still freezing into shape.

Just a couple of hours in the fridge, and ... tada! Particle and Theory are now solid jelly.

